FOREWORD

WHEN you, who spent the year 1921-22 at Lenoir College, have grown older, your minds will often turn back to those days. You will long to see those classmates and friends to talk over the "good old days at L. C." To keep those memories ever present, and to keep the class of '22 bound together by ties that in later life will mean so much, we, the members of the staff, offer you this, the twenty-second volume of The Bacana.

Lenoir, Lenoir

*Singing gayly, Happy we
Who belong to dear L. C.
Join our song, we'll make it ring
In ever widening circles outward.*

CHORUS:

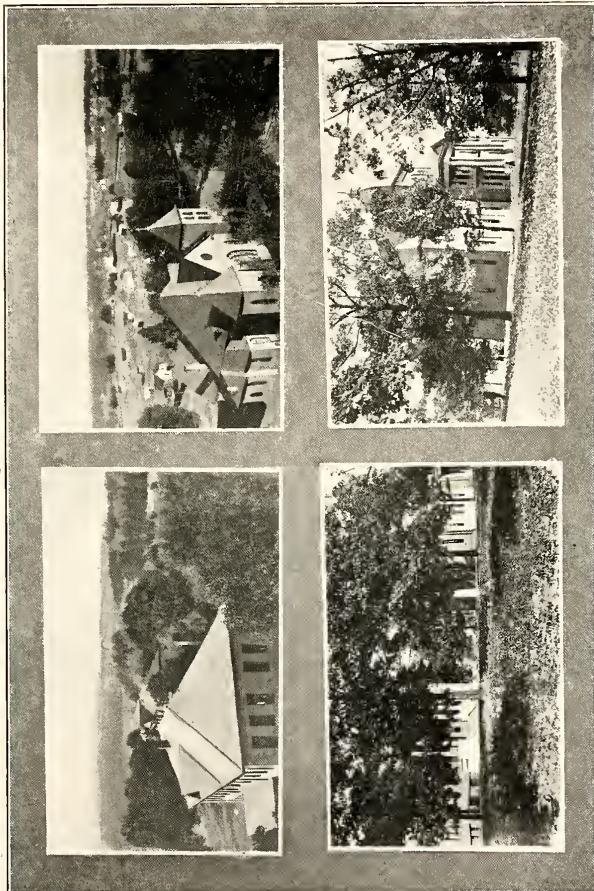

*Lenoir, Lenoir, we love to sing thy name,
Lenoir, Lenoir, to spread abroad thy fame,
Lenoir, Lenoir, our faith, our hopes, our cheers
We give thee now and through all the coming years.*

*Naught can daunt us, for you see
We are students of L. C.
Tried and true in loyalty
Our thoughts go with her onward*

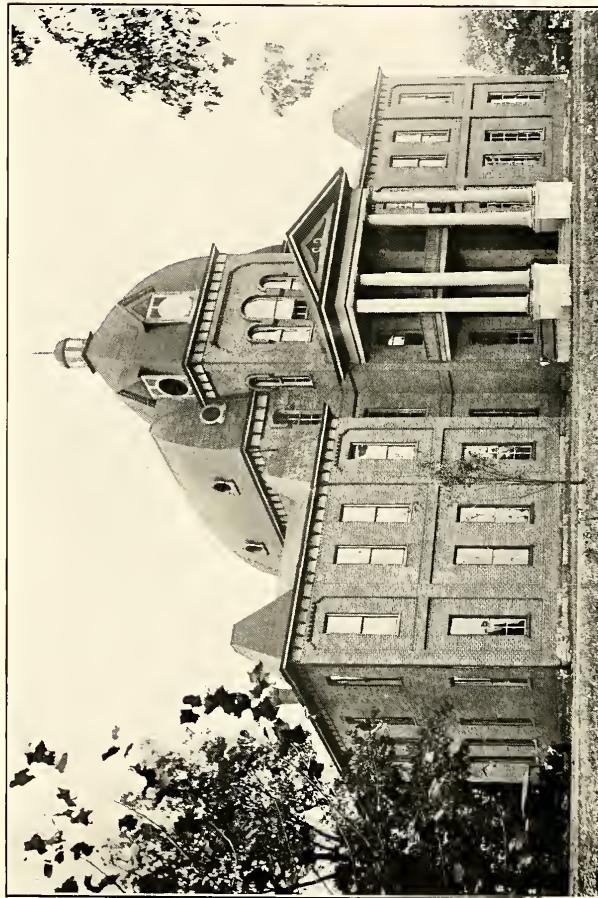

*Raise together—One, two, three;
Three strong cheers for our L. C.
Lenoir College, may we see
Thy banner ever waving skyward.*

"Not what I am but what I would be"

OVER and above being the scholar of our class "Ab" is a real friend and pal. With his sterling personality and sunny disposition he finds it easy to make friends wherever he goes. It is a pleasure to all who meet "Ab" to know him because we know that in him we have a true and loyal friend.

"Ab" finds it easy to accomplish whatever task he sets his heart on doing. We may say we have noticed in him only one weakness, namely, his unaccomplished desire to forget his Chester-fields.

"Ab" is contemplating the study of medicine and we give him our congratulations and best wishes for we know that he will be a success. "Ab" a Scholar, Friend, and Pal.

"Shore"

"BILL," with his pleasing smiles and ability to win friends easily, came to Lenoir in '13. From the first he was popular with the Co-eds. When he gets "slicked up" and steps out among the fair ones, all the rest of the sports have to stand aside. If someone could discover a method to bottle this magnetism and sell it for a tonic, their fortune would be made.

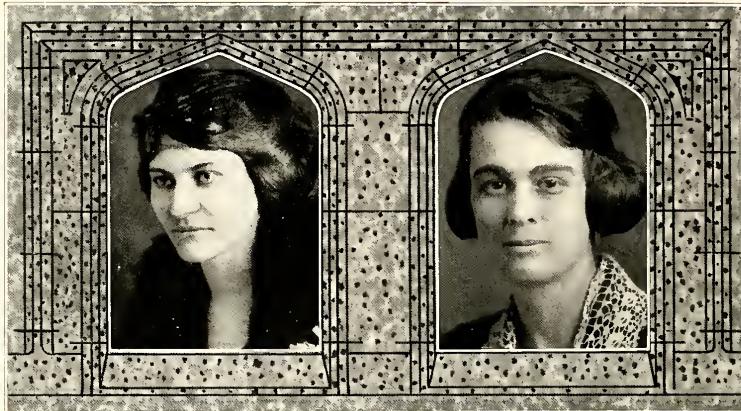

Much of "Bill's" popularity comes from his prowess on the Athletic field. With two years on the Varsity baseball team and three on the basketball team, he has made records that cannot be forgotten in a day.

While "Bill" has not led the class in mark, he has been a consistent and dependable student. He has always been able to "Produce" in an emergency.

A great future awaits him in the commercial world.

ZELDA'S friendship is worth our consideration. Her sincerity and reliability have won for her the admiration and respect of both students and faculty. When there is anything to be done, whether work or play, we always call on her. She is optimistic but does not allow pleasure to interfere with duty. Combined basketball star and student, she well deserves the success she has had in every line of work. Zelda is characterized by her seriousness of purpose and her kind disposition which make you admire her. She is interested in all church work and we feel certain that her services will bring much good wherever applied.

"Faith!"

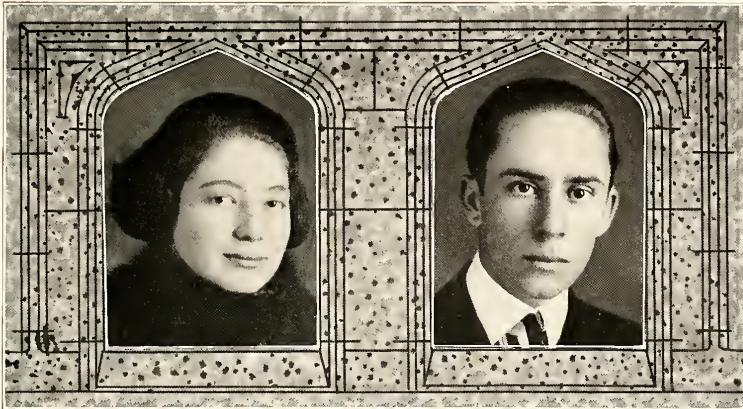

LOIS is the most dignified girl in our class and is very modest and unassuming. Although she is slow to express them, she has very pronounced convictions. Coon is a staunch supporter of all college activities and is ever ready to take part in any merry-making. She does not seek popularity, yet she has won many friends here, to whom she is always true. Lois never wastes time, consequently she has completed her courses in both Expression and

A. B., and has filled the position of assistant librarian. Judging from her achievements in the class room, we are confident that she will be an efficient teacher.

"Oh, that'll be just fine!"

ALENE is the youngest member of our class and is one who has shared with the class of '22 four years of pleasures mingled with occasional hardships. She is a girl of pleasant personality and of noble character—loyal to her class, society, and friends, and to the "Garnet and Black." We are proud to own her for she has been constant and diligent in every branch of work that she has pursued. Her gentle manner has endeared her to everyone of us. During her sojourn in college she has made a splendid record in all her work. She expects to teach, and we feel quite sure that with her personality and congeniality, only success can await her in her chosen work.

"That's all right"

"SLIM" entered the Freshman class of '18, coming to Lenoir from the Hickory High School. He was a member of the S. A. T. C. unit, and as such learned something of the hardships of military life. His four years at old Lenoir have won for him the respect of his teachers and fellow students. As a student, he is conscientious, diligent, and thorough, and in scholarship he ranks with the highest in his class. He is a scientist by nature, and consequently did his major work in Physics and Chemistry. Although he has not definitely decided upon his life's work, he is anxious to engage in the affairs of the industrial world. He is fond of Tennis, and his favorite pastime is playing "Love Games" with a "Little Girl."

WE are indeed glad to welcome Alma into our ranks. She entered Lenoir in the fall of 1917 with the class of '21, but owing to sickness she found it necessary to be out of college the following year. After spending two years at Catawba College she could not resist the lure of old L. C. and decided to receive her degree from her true Alma Mater.

Many characteristics are accountable for Alma's vast circle of friends, but the chief one is her sincere loyalty. She is industrious, eager, and always ready to help others who request her services. Such acquaintances one cannot soon forget.

"I'll be gum swizzled!"

AFTER an absence of three years, Ernest returned to Lenoir last spring and became a loyal member of '22. Our class and the whole student body soon recognized in him the qualities of a leader. The better we know him, the more deeply are we impressed by his high ability and sterling character. Most assuredly do we believe Lineberger to be the possessor of a strong mind, a sincere heart and a clear conscience. Yet he has no air of the "goody goody," but is ever ready for fun and good sport. As he goes to answer the call to the Christian ministry, we unanimously bid him God-speed. May complete success throughout life be his portion.

"What do we care?"

DAVE entered our ranks in 1918. Throughout his career at Lenoir he has been a loyal member of the "Garnet and Gold" and of the Chrestonian Literary Society. He has proved his high efficiency in the Athletic field as well as in Academic work. His honesty and business ability have commended him to us as the proper one to protect our financial interests in our school activities. In all our relations with him, we have found him ever a gentleman who is ready to be a friend to all.

We are confident that he will succeed in the life work which he undertakes. Our best wishes will accompany him throughout life.

ATTRACTIVENESS, good disposition, cheerfulness, loyalty to friends and school; these are attributes of Elsie. The Class of '22 is exceedingly fortunate in having such a member. As a college worker and as a booster of college activities one might search a long time for an equal. These traits are responsible for her popularity both among the students and faculty. For making friends and keeping them Elsie is a genius. One might well emulate these characteristics. Although small in stature, she is active, especially in basketball. When it comes to a yell or college song her voice can be heard very plainly among the others. We know she will be missed, but she will never be forgotten by those who knew her.

"Know Thyself"

HUGH has made a splendid record in college. He is among the leading members of our class in scholarship. As an ardent supporter of all college activities he has enthusiastically encouraged work in athletics, in the various clubs, in religious activities and in his literary society. There are few, if any, students who can surpass him in oratory and debating. He is also especially noted for his business ability.

Hugh is always ready for fun and good sport, but he does not care to waste his valuable time on trifles. Although he is yet young he has many excellent traits of Manhood.

Due to his intellectual achievement and high moral character we propensity for him a successful life.

DUCK, with his wonderful memory and desire to go with small women, launched forth on his college career with the Freshmen in '18. Without Duck our class would have been lacking in several important things. Fun and lots of it, pep and enthusiasm all are characteristics that belong to him.

"Duck's" fame for "swatting the old apple," on the Varsity for three years has thrown consternation into the Catawba camp on every Easter Monday. His popularity among his team-mates resulted in his election as Pilot of the team for the season of '22. In addition to being an athlete "Duck" stands far towards the front in scholastic attainments—a rare combination.

"Duck," Success is yours. Your unusual capacities linked with your consistent work will win for you success in whatever field you choose your life work.

"Oh de'ah!"

WHENEVER you meet "Babe" he will always greet you with a smile and a hearty "hello." To meet him is to like him, you just can't help it.

"Babe" is very popular among the opposite sex. They can't help loving him, and it seems he can't help loving them for just a little while—but like the summer breeze his affection is soon seeking another field.

On the Athletic field, "Babe" has made a name that will never die at Lenoir. Basketball was his hobby, yet he made the football and baseball teams with apparent ease.

"Babe" has decided to rule as judge supreme in some High School next year. His very personality, athletic attainments, and scholastic ability assure us that in this work he will be a success.

"Well that's a fact!"

I D'LET came to Lenoir in 1917 to take special work in piano. She completed her course with the class of '19. The next year she spent very successfully in teaching. But the call of Lenoir came to her, and being a girl of ambition and high ideals and realizing that in order to give the best to the world one must receive the best, she returned in '20 and joined our class. She has studied most assiduously in order to make her dreams a reality. However she has never failed us when it came to taking part in college activities.

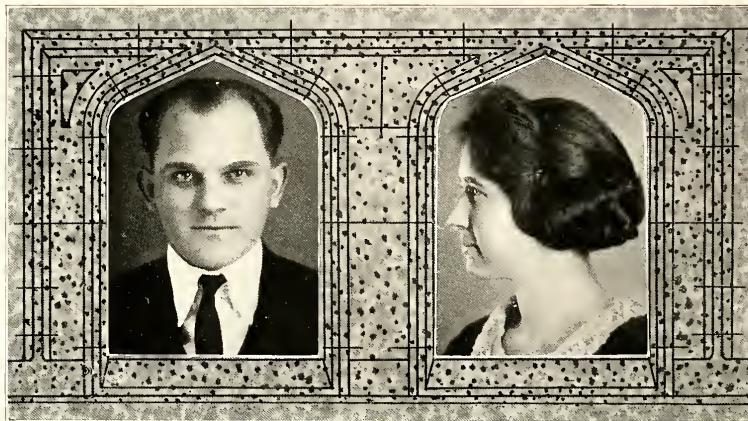

Idelette counts on being "School Marm" for the next few years.

STINE came to us in his senior year after having been at Catawba College three years, then teaching for the past three years. During the three years of his teaching he took the teachers' training course at the State Summer School.

Stine is a diligent worker both in the class room and in society work. He has left an enviable record as a debater. He, at times, tries to be very serious, but when the occasion presents itself he is in for his fun.

Among the girls Glenn has proven to be very popular, even to the extent that he has been called the "He Vamp." He is very fond of dancing always shaking a foot whenever the sound of music rings in his ears.

He expects to re-enter the field of education where we wish him much success.

CLARA SULLIVAN, A.B.

"CLARA" is an attractive girl as well as a brilliant student. She has the reputation of seldom making a higher grade than "A."

We are very proud of her since she is one of the two Student Volunteers of our class, and we feel sure that she will accomplish much in the foreign field.

Clara is an enthusiastic and never-tiring worker in all the College activities. In Literary Society work she has shown "perseverance, loyalty, and service." She is kind, sympathetic and always ready and willing to help others.

"Ed's long suit is argumentation." His weakness is being an easy mark for "Cupid." He will confess to you, "I couldn't resist those smiles and dimples," and "I just had to do it for pity."

"Ed" is thinking seriously of entering the field of medicine. Be sure whatever he chooses for his life work his energy, determination and good judgment will win for him success.

GEORGIA may well be proud of her representative in the class of '22, for "Zip" is among the leading members of our class. He is an earnest worker in class work, in his societies' activities, in religious work, and in supporting all athletic endeavors. His indomitable spirit of good humor is contagious. We have never seen him "blue," yet he is ready to sympathize with those who are, and is willing to help anyone out of difficulties.

He is undecided as to his life's work but we know that he will reap bountiful success, which he so richly deserves.

He only is a well made man who has a good determination.

Dear the ties, that we
Have thru the Garnet and the Gold,
Formed at old L. C.*

*Our success, we hope not to end at this place,
Tho' great it has been, you'll confess;
For our eyes are cast into open space
Where we hope, none the less,
To catch a vision of life sublime.
With service e'er to do,
We'll leave a record on the sands of time
Unsurpassed. O! Twenty-Two!*

*Our motto: "Climb tho' the hills be rugged,"
As ever thru the past,
If we always cherish and revere,
Will serve us, to the last.
By faithful efforts we'll mould into shape
Characters unhampered by fate;
Thru all our days and winding ways
Serve both our Church and State.*

*We are backing you, L. C.
We'll cheer you with our might,
We'll boost you on to victory,
You're bound to win the fight!
All thru the years we'll be the same
With loyal hearts and true,
We'll stand united in thy name
O! Class of Twenty-Two!*

Senior Class History

NE bright day in September, 1918, a bunch of youngsters appeared before the professors to go thru the confusing process of matriculation. This year was novel to all preceding years in that the S. A. T. C. held the place of preëminence at old L. C. We hardly knew who was in our class because so many of our boys were taking training. Those boys under eighteen years of age and all girls were outside the "pale" of the S. A. T. C. Being merely "Rats," we felt very much neglected. However, we finally ignored being called "Freshies" for we had great purposes in view, one of the least of which was to become Sophomores.

The following September witnessed the realization of our dream. Behold, we were Sophomores! Among the twenty-three bright and happy members of this class there was evidence of much potential talent. This manifested itself on the athletic field and in the spheres of academic work and fine arts. One of the most memorable occasions of this year was the hoisting of our flag, the matchless "Garret and Gold." We regretted only that many of our class mates did not return. Yet, as a whole, the year was pleasant and profitable, for the class of Twenty-Two was never surpassed by any preceding class.

When we became Juniors our conceptions of life were broadening and enlarging. This year was marked by many new events. Several of our girls starred on the basketball team that won the championship of North Carolina. The idea of Co-education became broader and girls were allowed to participate in the Junior Oratorical Contest. Contrary to the custom of the preceding years, the Junior Class was permitted to have a picnic. Along with these pleasures our duties were many, which however served to strengthen us for the tasks of the coming year.

Our class has always shown great interest in the activities of the college. We have seen great strides in the furtherance of our aim, "A Greater Lenoir." During our stay here, one endowment fund campaign has gone over the top. The enlargement of that fund is now being considered.

Our Senior year came at last and we found ourselves nearing the goal for which we had been striving. In truth we had to go to work in earnest, but our duties did not rob us of pleasures. Early in the year we took our first outing—a "Bacon Bat." For one evening we cast aside all semblance of dignity and sitting around the camp fire in the moonlight, carefree and filled with the spirit of good comradeship, we sang and made merry.

What success we have realized here has been due in a large measure to the aid and inspiration that we have received from our kind instructors. We thank them for the ideals and visions of higher things they have given us. Soon we will separate, but it is better so, for each one of us has a duty to perform for the world. It is well that we be about it.

Senior Class Prophecy

THE birds had already announced that Spring was here by their joyful songs. The trees had put forth their green leaves, and the campus which once was covered with wild weeds was now more beautiful with pretty lawn grass. It was a great day—even the faces of those assembled seemed to exemplify that peace and joy within them. The sun with its splendor had just risen above the dome of the well remembered Administration building. The same old bell was ringing that the members of the Class of '22 used to hear when they were students at Lenoir. The men and women, boys and girls, were assembled in the Auditorium. It was Commencement day and the graduation exercises were just beginning when I stepped out of the car on what I considered almost holy ground. I was on Lenoir College campus once again. How my thoughts wandered back to the old days when with my dearest friends I spent here in sublime happiness. I looked around for a few moments to see the old campus once again. I was almost completely swept off my feet as I noticed the many new and magnificent buildings. It did not appear to be the same spot, but I knew it was, as the old war path that I once walked so often was still there. Yes, many changes had been made and my heart at once swelled with pride for I knew full well that Lenoir was neither dead nor asleep. I was as one in a trance for a short while; I could only think of the days of long ago.

Twenty years ago the members of the Class of '22 were given their diplomas. When the last class meeting was held it was decided that on Commencement day, 1912, the class, or as many of them as possible, would assemble here for a reunion. With this aim in view I came back to my Alma Mater after an absence of twelve years, and as I stood gazing at the dear place someone came up and gave me a tap on the shoulder. I turned and whom did I see but William Boger. It was a happy meeting, and Bill, as he was best known to me, appeared just as jovial as ever. "How many of the old bunch are here today?" I asked him. His reply was that only seven were present.

I caught him by the arm and we began walking over the paths we had formerly trodden. Our talk at once went back to the days in school and then to the more interesting discussion concerning the whereabouts of each of the class. All his knowledge of our class mates was news to me since I had been out of America for many years.

He began by telling me that he was in the textile business, and was living in Concord. "And Duck, I have a wonderful wife: she is such a dear," he began. "Where did you get her?" I asked next. Then he told me of his three years of school teaching. How he had met her, quit teaching, and then decided to go into the textile business.

We came back from our walk in time to see Glenn Stine and Ernest Lineberger walking toward the College Library with a few friends. We greeted them both and then began our conversation. It was generally known during our school days that Lineberger was studying for the ministry, so I proceeded to ask how he was succeeding, and where he was located at the time. He informed me he was in Birmingham, Alabama, and had a growing congregation. I started to ask him another question when he interrupted me and asked if I had heard what wonderful work our sister class mate, Miss Sullivan, was doing in her work in Japan. He informed me that she had been largely influential in the establishment of an orphan home in her mission field.

I became inquisitive all the more about our class mates and interrogated Stine as to his work. I learned that he was County Superintendent of Education in Mecklenburg County. He informed me that he was of course lucky and had found a charming and loving wife.

At this interval I suggested that we drive over the town and see if it had changed as much as the college. Going up Tenth Avenue I at once noticed a new brick structure that appealed to me and led me to ask what the building was. My companions seemed amazed at the fact that I had not heard of the Yoder-Abernethy Sanitorium. Lineberger told me then that they had both done as they contemplated, gone to Johns-Hopkins and graduated in medicine and surgery. I remarked how grand it was to think of my class mates doing such needful work. Stine interrupted with the question, "Have you seen Seitz and his place of business?" Of course I had not, and it naturally followed that I should ask of him. I was altogether ignorant of the fact that he had one of the largest clothing stores in Statesville and had such a beautiful home. About this time the car stopped at the door of the Yoder-Abernethy office and we all went in. After talking a few minutes, Walter showed me a letter from Ernest Deal stating his regrets that he could not be with the class. The stationery heading was interesting to me as it told me of his occupation. It read something like this: Deal Drug Company; Ernest Deal, Pharmacist; 216-218 N. Main. Phone, Office 462-J; Phone, Front 518-L. When I finished reading this I exclaimed, "When did he start doing this?" Yoder informed me that he had been following the trade since his graduation in Pharmacy sixteen years ago and that he had made quite a success of it.

Abernethy suggested that we go to his home for lunch, and it goes without saying that the invitation was accepted with much gratitude. The next few hours were spent in his fine home. His wife received us in the most courteous manner, and due to her kindness and thoughtfulness we enjoyed their hospitality exceedingly.

As the hour hand was nearing three it was suggested that we go to the College and find out whether any more of the class mates had arrived. After inquiring for a few minutes, we learned that two of the girls had been at the Girls' Dormitory but had gone for a walk. Immediately we began our search, and whom do you think we found? It was none other than our friends Zelda Carpenter and Lois Coon. It was a lengthy conversation which we had, but during the course of it we found that Zelda had changed her name from Miss to Mrs. due to the wooing of a minister, who at present was holding a charge at Greenville, S. C. Lois exclaimed that she and Allene Cromer were the only ones to retain their old names. Needless it is to say that we asked all about the positions of these sister class mates. We received the information that Miss Coon was Dean of Women in a school in Tennessee, and that Miss Cromer was doing deacoreses work in Norfolk, Virginia. All congratulated them upon their splendid choices, and wished them much success.

Leaving them, we returned to the college campus. As we approached the campus we heard the band playing the dear old college song, and after this many shouts were heard which seemed to be in the direction of the Athletic Field. It was the hour for the Lenoir-Catawba game, and certainly we were not going to miss it. It was a grand game and the result brought many cheers from us.

Coming out of the gate, whom did we meet but our old friend David Mosteller. He seemed very elated over the victory and said that his heart was the same toward athletics as it was in the days gone by. David had with him his family, and he and his wife extended to us a cordial invitation to visit them at their home only a few miles south of Hickory. He had been a farmer of much prominence and his was reputed to be the best dairy farm in the vicinity.

As the time was fast approaching eight o'clock the members of the Class of '22 who were present were gathering together for an informal meeting. It was a chattering all the time. Questions we asked incessantly and much was learned. During the evening I found out all that I possibly could about the class. Miss Idelette Spann was pictured to me as being married to a famous singer and that they were both engaged by the Redpath Company. They had already toured Europe and were at present performing in America's largest cities. I found that my intimate friend Hugh Rhyne was situated in Pennsylvania. He had for years been an active minister, but now was a teacher in the Theological Seminary. His success was pictured to me as being inevitable. Turning back to the girl members of the class, I was instructed that Miss Elsie Rhodes had been married to a business man in Gastonia. As was expected by all, her kind disposition had won many loyal friends for her, and her social welfare work had been of the highest type.

On my journey to Hickory I noticed in one of the cities a poster announcing the coming of a Miss Bostain to their city. It also stated her position in the world of readers and interpreters and I at once desired to know if it was the same Miss Bostain that I knew. To my delight I learned that it was none other than she of whom much was expected in this line of work.

One of the class, Miss Alma Hoover, has had the good fortune of marrying a doctor. They reside at present in Lexington, N. C., and it is well known that they have had many good fortunes to come their way.

I found it to be a fact, which I so long expected during my college days, that Dewey Zipperer had studied for the ministry and had won many members for the congregations he had so faithfully served. At the time he was filling a call at Sumter, South Carolina.

All the happy hours at Lenoir with my old friends had to come to an end. On the day following the reunion I left and as the train was pulling out of town I could still see the dome of the Main Building soaring above the rest. When the puissant engine had drawn its train out of the sight of Lenoir College my heart seemed to throb, but still I was glad to have been there and to have learned of the ones so dear to me.

Last Will and Testament

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA }
COUNTY OF CATAWBA. } City of Hickory.

WE, the Senior Class of 1922, being fully aware of the fact that our days of joys and sorrows at this institution will soon come to an end, and that we must hereafter "climb the rugged hills" without the guiding hand of our "Alma Mater," being in full possession of a sound mind, memory and understanding; do declare this our LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, and render null and void any wills by us at any time heretofore made. We appoint the all-wise Sophomore Class as our lawful executor. Such estate as it has pleased kind fate to bestow upon us we dispose of as follows:

Item 1. We, the Senior Class of Lenoir College, do will and bequeath to the Board of Trustees our kindest appreciation for all they have done in the interest of the College and for our welfare.

Item 2. To the Faculty, we will our sincere thanks for the knowledge that they have imparted to us, and we trust that they will be able to expatiate as much to our successors.

Item 3. We bequeath to the Junior Class our dignity and many privileges. Also, our congratulations for absorbing Physics, which has been and always will be to us a closed book.

Item 4. To the Sophomore Class we will our inseparability as a class. In your wisdom remember this advice, "He who knows not, and knows not he knows not, he is a fool—shun him."

Item 5. We do will and bequeath to the Freshman Class our heartfelt sympathy for all their mistakes and failures along with a word of kind admonition that they remain diligent in their work. As to our individual personal possessions, we dispose of them as follows:

Item 6. I, Zelda Carpenter, do will and bequeath my ability to ask unnecessary questions on Education to Evelyn Bickley; also, my unnatural dignity to Wynne Boliek.

Item 7. I, Ernest R. Lineberger, do will and bequeath my noble ambition to Curtis Wise; and my faithfulness in love to J. L. Norris.

Item 8. I, William J. Boger, do will my cleverness to Fred Abernethy, along with my accidents on the athletic field.

Item 9. I, Idelette Spann, do bequeath my ability to attract unmarried professors to Nell Hoover; and my popularity to Juanita Mauney.

Item 10. I, Walter E. Abernethy, do will and bequeath my recipe for politeness to Donald Hutton; also, my sanctimonious nature and deck of highly treasured cards to P. W. Deaton.

Macawa '22

Item 11. I, Alma Hoover, do will my love of sincerity to Ruth Dellinger; and my lack of craving for good things to eat to Ruth Troutman.

Item 12. I, Dorus Rudisill, do will my sympathetic nature to James Kern; also, my power to get another girl when losing one to Professor Aderholdt.

Item 13. I, Glenn R. Stein, do will and bequeath my dignified air and "Coquettishness" to Paul Fullenweider. To K. Hirai I will my conscientiousness.

Item 14. I, Elsie Rhodes, do will my many Senior privileges to Virgie Lee Howard; and my mischievous pranks to Pauline Cauble.

Item 15. I, Edwin M. Yoder, do will my power of argumentation to Lewis Carpenter; and I do bequeath my timidity in the presence of young ladies to J. D. Tickle.

Item 16. I, Dewey W. Zipperer, do bequeath my congeniality and optimism to Benlah Walhorn. To Edwin Troutman I will my popularity among the "fair" sex.

Item 17. I, Clara Sullivan, do will my undivided attention to young men to Christine Sigmon; also, my ability to answer question on class to Mildred Bingham.

Item 18. I, Eubert V. Seitz, do will my worthy achievements in athletics to J. I. Cline; and my interest of everything in Hickory to Edwina Hancock.

Item 19. I, David C. Mosteller, do will my studious nature to Frank Abernethy, and I bequeath my love for French ("Bon") to any worthy young man who may be interested.

Item 20. I, Allene Cromer, do bequeath my profound judgment in practical affairs to Annie Sigmond. To Mary Plork and Elizabeth White I will my charming personality.

Item 21. I, Hugh J. Rhyre, do will and bequeath my scholarly attainments to Eugene Smith. Also, my interest in Oakview to Dr. Rein.

Item 22. I, Ernest Deal, do will my position as Laboratory Assistant to James Roof; and three feet of my superfluous height to Kate Mosteller.

Item 23. I, Lois Coon, do will and bequeath all my rouge boxes, lip sticks and books on "How to Become Beautiful" to Lorena Arndt. Also, my place as Assistant Librarian to Grace Herman.

Item 24. I, Elizabeth Bostian, do will and bequeath my special privilege of being a Special to Mac Throneburg; and my interest in everything "Wise" to Katherine Fritz.

In the presence of this assembly of witnesses, we hereunto set our hands and seals, this, the first day of March, Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Two.

Bacawa '22

FRANK ERNEST ABERNETHY

STANLEY, N. C.

FRANK is a young man of high aspirations, a diligent student, and a real pal to all who know him. He has a characteristic wit, which, with his pleasing personality, has won many friends for him. He plans to teach, and we feel sure that he will have a successful career in this profession.

FRED ABERNETHY

LINCOLNTON, N. C.

FRED is one of the jolliest, best natured members of our class—always with a smile for everyone. It is such as he who gives us the name "Jolly Juniors." He hasn't yet decided on his life's work, but, "Fred, old boy, here's to your Success."

LORENA ARNDT

CONOVER, N. C.

LORENA entered our class in the Freshman year, having come from Concordia College. Character means much to her. She has one that is being slowly moulded with true loyalty and punctuality. "Be Industrious" is her slogan. Lorena's Home Economics work is always well done. We wish her much success in whatever she undertakes in the future.

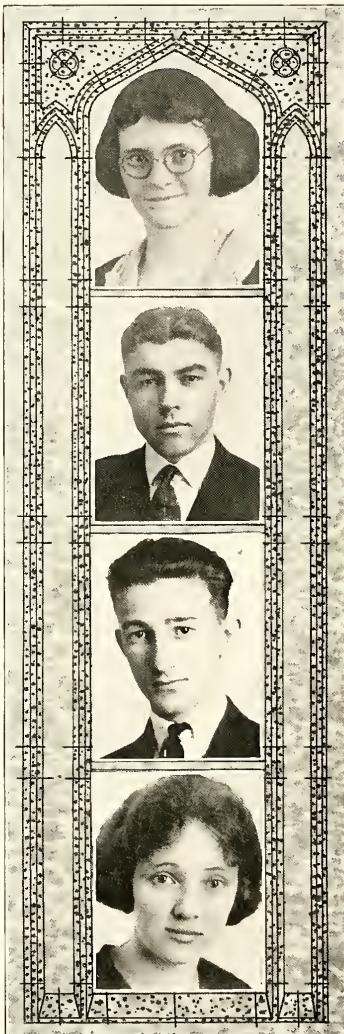

EVELYN BICKLEY

GRANITE FALLS, N. C.

BICKLEY" is very jolly, and nothing ever seems to worry her. She doesn't even worry over Chemistry or Math. If she gets "tickled" about something, she is going to laugh; it makes no difference where she is nor what she is doing. She is very popular among the students and is liked by all.

Bacawa '22

MILDRED BINGHAM

HICKORY, N. C.

MILDRED is known by all her associates to be a very modest and studious young lady. Although she does not display her intellectual ability, it can easily be discovered in the class room. In all her undertakings she faithfully performs her duty. She is a loyal member of the Philalethian Literary Society. We wish her much success in whatever task she undertakes.

WYNNE BOLICK

GASTONIA, N. C.

HAW! Haw! that's Wynne, we've heard him laugh before. He's a jolly boy, everybody's friend. But look at your pocket quick and grab your handkerchief if he's near or you'll be out one. Then you can "usslume"—Bolick doesn't kill time; he's a basketball player, an ardent ministerial student and a big sport. Ask anybody and they'll tell you that he is an all round fine fellow.

LEWIS B. CARPENTER

DALLAS, N. C.

"MOLLY" entered our class as a Freshman from Dallas, N. C. He has made his mark in the class room as well as on the athletic field. He is an energetic, broad-minded young man. "Molly" is good-natured, kindly disposed and consistent. A promising future awaits him, we believe.

PAULINE CAUBLE

CLEVELAND, N. C.

PAULINE joined our class in our Freshman year from the Cleveland High School. She is a very industrious student and is liked by every one who knows her. She is especially interested in music and is doing the major part of her work in that course. We wish her a very happy future.

Bacawa '22

J. IVEY CLINE

GRANITE FALLS, N. C.

"J. I." joined our class in the Sophomore year. He is very studious in all his work. The class is very proud to boast that he is the artist of the College. He has not decided as yet what his life work will be, but we feel sure that he will make great success in the field of art.

RUTH DELLINGER

CHERRYVILLE, N. C.

RUTH until this year has been enrolled in the class of '22; now, by a twist of fate, she is a member of the Class of '23. She is very popular among all her associates because of her winning ways. Ruth is specializing in Voice and Piano and already is recognized as a young artist. If she chooses, a wonderful career awaits her in the musical world; but we suspect she would rather be queen of a cozy home.

PAUL DEATON

HICKORY, N. C.

"PETE" did not annex himself to us until in our Junior year, yet he is truly "one of us." His motto might be "What I Think I Must Speak," and he is admired for his frankness. He has an original doctrine which he defends with the Bible. His arguments are good. We wish him success as a debater and expect to hear before many years that he has accomplished wonders.

PAUL FULENWIDER

SALISBURY, N. C.

PAUL came to our class as a Junior from Newberry College, Newberry, S. C. We are exceedingly glad to receive him into our class. He has a scholarly face, and back of that has the mind of a scholar. Paul is very sociable and has many friends. He is very industrious and studious, and we predict a brilliant future for him.

Bacana '22

EDWINA HANCOCK

HICKORY, N. C.

EDWINA joined our class at the beginning of this school year. Her good-natured disposition has won for her the friendship of all her classmates. She is a good student and is always loyal to the class and college. She has not decided upon her life's work, but we are sure she will be successful in anything she undertakes.

VIRGIE LEE HARWARD

ALBEMARLE, N. C.

"BUN," as she is affectionately called by her friends, is one of the most popular girls in the class and she has the good wishes of all. She likes fun, loves a joke, and is always cheerful. Mathematics is her greatest trial and worry. She intends to become a teacher and with her friendly disposition is certain to succeed.

GRACE HERMAN

HUDSON, N. C.

"PEEPIE" entered our class in '20. She came to us from G. C. W. We were very glad to welcome her to the class and she has proved to be a competent and loyal member. She is of a modest and lovable nature and we all like her. Grace is tiny, therefore we cannot judge her intellectual capacity by her stature, for indeed her mental power makes up for her physical smallness.

NELL HOOVER

CROUSE, N. C.

NELL joined our ranks at the beginning of this, our Junior year. She was formerly a student here but for several years has attended college elsewhere, and it is with pleasure that we welcome her back to old Lenoir. She is a very modest and lovable girl, a splendid student and a hard worker for her class and her college. A promising future awaits Nell and we wish her success and happiness through life.

Bacana '22

KIYOSHI HIRAI

FUKUOKA, JAPAN

IN the Sophomore year the Class of '23 had the unique distinction of receiving the first Japanese student, Mr. Hirai. Always smiling, with a pleasant word for everyone, he has shown us a personality to be envied, and all who know him admire and respect him. In the class room Hirai is not lacking. He is interested and helpful in all religious activities, which predicts for him success when he returns to Japan as a missionary.

DONALD HUTTON

HICKORY, N. C.

DONALD entered our class in 1919 as a Freshman from Hickory High School. He has made one of the best records as a student that our College has ever known. He possesses a bright and pleasing personality and consequently wins the friendship of everyone he comes in contact with. We are all proud to claim him as a classmate.

JAMES S. KERN

SALISBURY, N. C.

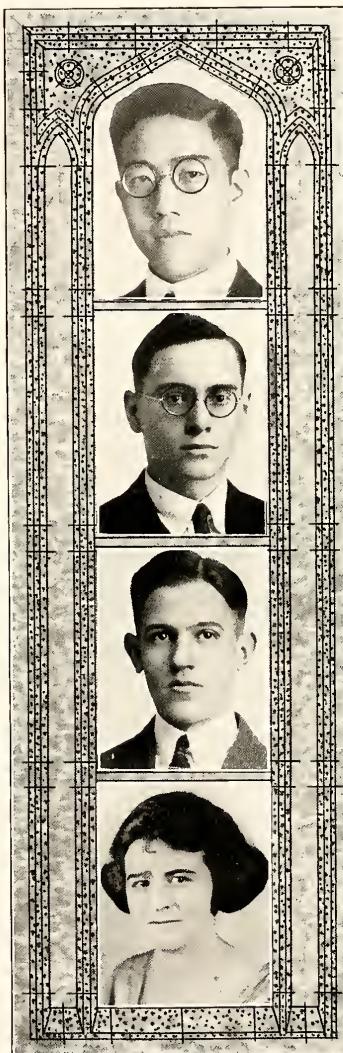

KERN entered our class in the fall of '19, a product of the Salisbury High School. Few surpass him in scholarship. He is always willing to take part in all the activities that tend to strengthen Lenoir. Kern has the ministry in view, and from the interest that he shows in the religious work of our College, we are sure that success awaits him in this field of work.

JUANITA ELIZABETH MAUNNEY

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C.

GLAD are we that Juanita decided to come to Lenoir this year instead of returning to Elizabeth College. Her pleasant disposition makes all admire and love her. The interest in all of the college activities that characterizes her proves that she is a model school girl. We are confident that she will succeed, and give her our best wishes.

Kaewa '22

SANDS, N. C.

JEFF'S jolly good nature has won for him many friends. He has distinguished himself in the class room and on the athletic field. He is an excellent speaker and is interested in all religious activities. We feel sure he is capable of efficiently performing the duties of a minister. We extend to him our best wishes for a successful career.

ANNIE SIGMOND

HICKORY, N. C.

WE are glad that Annie has seen fit to cast her lot with us rather than go away to college. Altho a day student, she is always on hand to join in all activities. She's a jovial, good-natured girl, a real friend and a good student. She is especially interested in music and voice. It is such members as Annie that make our Glee Club deserve its name; no "blues" when she is around. Let Hickory High School send us more such students.

CHRISTINE SIGMON

HICKORY, N. C.

CHRISTINE is one of the steady workers in our class. Modest, but always ready to join in a hearty laugh at any amusement. She is interested in the work of foreign missions and intends taking up this work. We are sure that such a persistent worker will be a light in the world.

EUGENE R. SMITH

BRISTOL, TENN.

MR. SMITH did you say? Yes, he's all right and a good old scout. This is a fair illustration of the opinion of the student body. This is Eugene's third year at College. During the past two years he has made a splendid record and is still keeping things going like sixty. He hails from Bristol, Tenn., but we sincerely believe that his good will, like himself, sticks with the good old North State.

Waewa '22

JULIUS D. TICKLE

ELON COLLEGE, N. C.

"TICK" hails from Liberty High School. After having finished the course of study required by the High School at that place, he entered the Freshman Class at Lenoir. There is no one to be found who takes a greater part in all college activities, athletics, society work, Glee Club, and dramatics. He takes great delight in arguing both in class room and society. His oratorical ability is not to be questioned and when in need of a good stump speech for anything just call on "Tick."

EDWIN F. TROUTMAN

TROUTMANS, N. C.

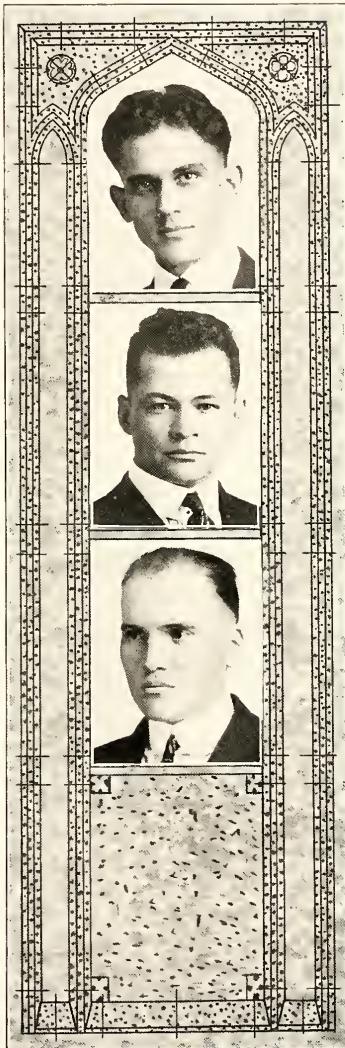

If we were choosing an all-round student and friend we would certainly consider Troutman. Equally at home in the class room, in the society hall, or in church work, he can always be depended upon. Edwin enjoys a good joke, but will not take advantage of anyone to secure it. He is a diligent student and a sincere friend. Knowing him as we do, we feel sure that success awaits him in life.

CURTIS K. WISE

BARBER, N. C.

CURTIS entered our class in the fall of '21, being a member of the class of '20. Indeed we are all glad to have him as a bona fide classmate. Truly it can be said that he lives consistently with his surname, and since it is "Wisdom" which we are all seeking for, we must appreciate him. Curtis is sincere, upright, and steadfast in all of his undertakings, and we feel confident that success will be at his service.

Tacawa '22

Junior Class History

As we reflect a moment, we find that we have been at Lenoir College almost three years, and that we are in our third historical era of our college career. Like all classes, we are passing slowly but surely thru the inevitable griding stages of college life gradually nearing the climax.

It was in the Fall of '19 that we, the Class of '23, began making our history. We entered college, as most boys and girls do—fresh and green—and were easily scared into obeying the Sophomores. Soon after our entrance we organized our class with "Purple and Gold" as our colors, and under the motto "Thru Perseverance We Win." Then we were ready to begin our college career in all earnestness, and earned for our class an enviable reputation in scholarship and in all phases of college activity.

As is usually the case, many of our number failed to return at the beginning of our Sophomore year, but with great joy we welcomed several new members into our class. One of these Kioyshi Hirai, from far away Japan, we received with pleasure, for his entrance gives our class the distinction of having the first foreign student at Lenoir College. During the year we governed the "Freshies" in a commendable though not despotic manner and fitted them to become efficient Sophomores.

A smaller band we returned in the Fall of '21, but our number was augmented by the addition of six regular Juniors and several Specials. We have now finished the greater part of our college career and have at last arrived at the great realization that life requires more than trembling submission and noisy suppression. Substantial thought and action have been the result. We are almost ready to enter our last year.

A brief concrete description of the record we have established will show that we stand for the development of our dear college. As for athletics, the Class of '23 can show her full share of representatives on the Varsity teams, and as a class we have loyally backed all of our teams. In scholarship we have indeed established an enviable record, for we have had several distinction members and one of our number has for the past three years led the college in scholarship. In forensic activities, our class has maintained her high place. In the Glee Club and in the Band we are well represented; in fact, we are in all worth-while activities. Each member is always ready to do his bit to uphold the old "Purple and Gold."

We all hope while here to fit ourselves for the life of service we must live. When we do go out into the world we intend to carry our share of life's responsibilities and to be loyal Alumni of our Alma Mater.

Sophomore Class History

N September 7, 1920, we entered Lenoir College as humble Freshmen. Seventy students were enrolled in our class, and we were very proud of the fact that ours was the largest Freshman Class in the history of the college. Of course college life was new to most of us although a few had been Preps here. We, too, were jeered and called "Freshies" and "Rats" and told to "lie low" by our upper-classmen, especially by the "Sophs." Soon they learned that we were in earnest, so they began to look upon us with more benign aspect.

In the Fall of 1921 we reassembled at Lenoir College to pursue our climb for knowledge. Many of our classmates had dropped out, and we were glad to have new members to fill their places. We were aware of the fact that we were "Wise Fools" and that it was our duty to combat the "Freshies." However, we had very little trouble with them.

Our class is well represented in all the activities of the college, both religious and social. We are very proud that some of our class won letters in football. We pride ourselves as being loyal co-workers, each member willing to help put over every cause that is beneficial to the class. We hope to raise our colors high, and keeping in mind our motto, "Forward," we are determined to trample failure under foot and move on higher towards success.

Freshman Class History

THE collegiate year of 1921 dawned upon the largest Freshman Class in the history of Lenoir College. Some sixty-five students were enrolled at the beginning of the term; since that time the number has slightly increased.

We were somewhat uncertain and uneasy in the first few weeks of our new experience as college presented altogether a new life. We had heard of the privileges which the upper-classmen had the right to assume over the Freshmen, and so we felt a bit of apprehension in approaching the new territory. However, our fears were soon dismissed, due to the geniality and sociability of the former students, and we began to work in earnest.

Our first class meeting was called soon after school opened, officers were elected, and, "To the Heights Thru Toil" was chosen as our motto.

We have taken part in all the social activities of the College. On October 20th, we were permitted to go on a picnic to Blowing Rock—a privilege given to no former Freshman class.

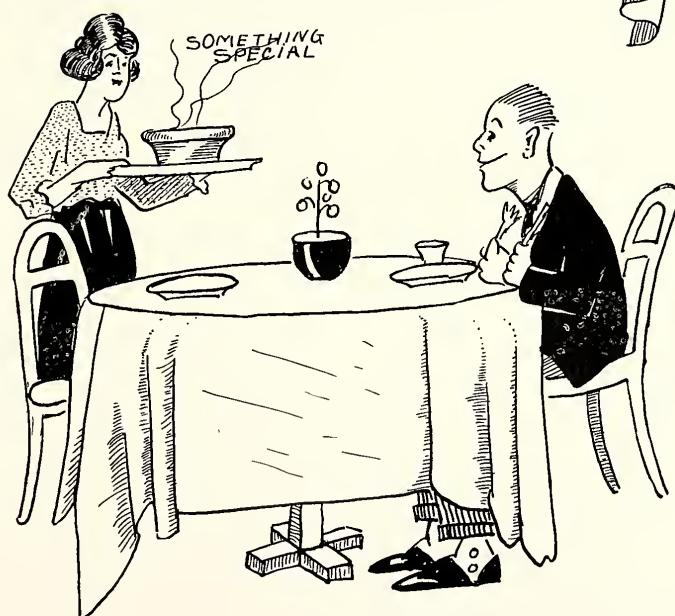

The class has won many distinctions in athletics. Four of our girls made the Varsity in basketball. In the field of boys' athletics as many as six of our number made the Varsity.

So far our efforts have not been in vain; everywhere we have met with success. The Class of '25 has two aims: the first to make its mark in the world; the second to glorify Old Lenoir.

—CLASS HISTORIAN.

MR. PHIL UTLEY
Coach

PROF. V. V. ADERHOLDT
Graduate Manager

LENOIR was exceeding fortunate in securing Mr. Phil Utley as coach for the season of 1921-22. Coach Utley who comes to us from Wake Forest College was a member of that institution's football team for four years and its basketball quint for three years. In each of these teams his work was of the highest quality. After leaving College he played three years of league ball in the Appalachian League, Georgia-Alabama League, and Georgia State League. His work in this company enabled him to learn all the inside points of the game. Since that time he has made a creditable record as coach of athletics at Carson, Newman College, Jefferson City, Tenn.

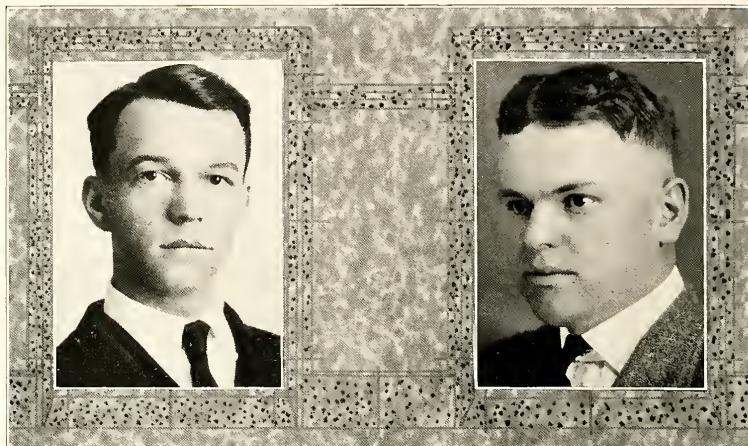

It is mainly due to the untiring efforts of Coach Utley that Lenoir owes her success in athletics this season. We regret that he will not be able to come back to us next fall. We extend to him our best wishes assuring him that his name will live forever at Lenoir College.

When in need of athletic advice we have only to consult our graduate manager, Prof. Victor V. Aderholdt.

He is one of us, having graduated with the Class of '15, consequently he knows our needs. It is due to his forethought and conservation that we have our present athletic equipment. His services are greatly appreciated.

Summary of 1921 Football Season

N Friday afternoon November 19, when Lenoir College played and defeated Lenoir town High and Ex-College players the fooball season came to a close. Although a majority of the games played were lost, yet it can be said that the 1921 season of football at Lenoir College was a success for as has been stated in the past it has been five years since the college has even attempted to put out an eleven.

The success which we claim does not lie merely in the number of games won for if it did we could not justly claim success, but it is due to the great progress made in this line of activity since the opening of school in September. When we go to account for this progress in football several things must be taken into consideration.

First, the patience and hard work of Coach Utley. When he came to us he had the reputation of an excellent coach but most of us would rather see a thing done before we believe it and he showed us that he was really capable of the job and meant business. To make a college football squad out of raw recruits in a few months is no easy task. It was this task he undertook and successfully carried out.

At the first call for candidates for the eleven at the beginning of the season many came out daily and stuck to it until the last game of the season whether they made the team or not. Almost every day new ones would come out so that there were about three elevens on the field all the time. There were very few of those who went out to practice at first who did not stay in and work until the very last. They did everything in their power to uphold the Garnet and Black and the name of old Lenoir in the football world again.

Another factor in our success was the interest and enthusiasm manifested by the faculty and student body. At no time did the students feel that they were not proud of Lenoir's newly organized eleven. Everything said or acted tended to increase the needed support. There were very few games played on the local gridiron but whenever there was one at home faculty and student body came out to give all they had in order to spur the Lenoir eleven on to victory.

During the season there were two games played with colleges of the state—first with Elon which resulted in a defeat for Lenoir 39-0. This was the first game of the season. To hold an experienced heavy eleven like Elon has to six touchdowns must be commended of any newly organized football squad. The other College game which was a hard fought one, with Guilford was lost by a score of 65-0. At that time many thought that it was a real bad defeat, but it resulted in even more determination on the part of all to win. The score with Charlotte University School was 33-14 in C. U.'s favor. We had "to hand it to them," they had a good team.

One class game was played on the local gridiron—Fresh-Sophs in combat with the Junior-Seniors. Much to the surprise of all, the game resulted in a 13-13 tie. This game tended to strengthen the old fighting "Win or Die" spirit in all the players.

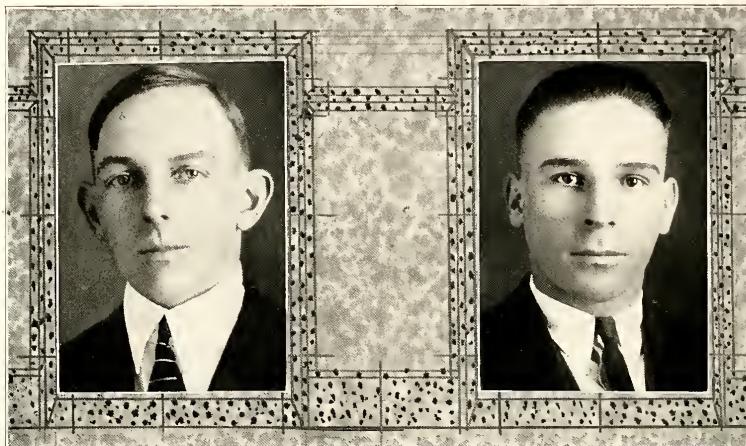

Two games were played with high schools—one with Newton and the other with Lenoir town. The scores were Lenoir 50, Newton High 0; Lenoir College 40, Lenoir town 0.

The following were awarded the "L.": Captain Edwin Yoder, H. J. Rhyne, John Evans, J. L. Norris, C. K. Wise, L. B. Carpenter, Wike Lippard, E. F. Troutman, Yates Heavner, D. O. Rudisill, Yates Yoder, J. D. Tickle, G. W. Fetzer, W. J. Moretz, David Mosteller, Fred Brown, W. E. Abernethy, M. C. Pierce, P. W. Deaton, Herman Brown, D. P. Rudisill, E. V. Seitz.

Although several good players will be lost next year, yet with the great number of old players who will re-enter next fall and the new students who come in, a team which can cope with almost any college in the state will be put out.

Football at Lenoir during this past 1921 season has done more to increase a college spirit than any other athletic activity has in the history of the institution. We are sure that everyone will look back on the football season of 1921 at Lenoir College as one to be remembered, to be proud of, and to be considered a success.

Review of Basketball Season

THE BASKETBALL SEASON FOR 1921-22 which closed with the Oak Ridge game was in many respects the most successful that Lenoir has ever entered upon. Although only eight games were won out of the nineteen played, the average is strongly in favor of Lenoir. Only six games were played on the local floor during the past season. Each of these was won. Thirteen battles were fought in foreign territory, two of which were won.

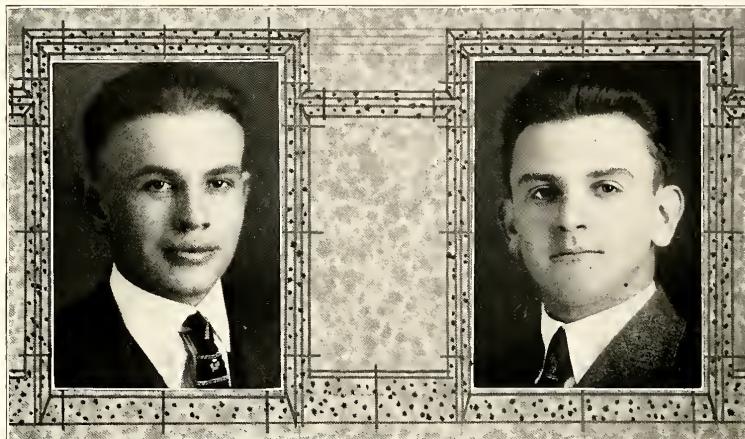

In regard to the games on the local floor, little needs to be said. Our team romped away to victory in each struggle piling up prodigious scores. With the student body on the side lines giving the "Long Lenoir," our team went wild in every game, and nothing short of a hurricane could have stopped their scoring. To prove that the shooting of the team was par excellent it need only be said that in the six games on the local floor the team scored 354 points, an average of 59 points to the game.

This year the squad made two trips, one among the Eastern Carolina colleges, and one through Tennessee and Virginia. On the Eastern trip the teams of Oak Ridge, Durham "Y", Camp Bragg, N. C. State, Wake Forest, and Elon were met. The Oak Ridge quint was defeated 37 to 28 on their small court. At Durham, the Lenoir quint succeeded in their rolling up 31 points on the strong Durham "Y" aggregation, a record in the fact that no other college team in the State had been able to roll up so many points on this fast bunch. At State College the "fast little team from Lenoir College" sprang a surprise on its heavier opponents, and but for the fact that the referee called a "loose game" the score would have been different. The other games on this trip were lost but the team made a creditable showing against its more experienced opponents.

On the Western trip a new brand of basketball was introduced the "rough and tumble, get what you can." Our team won only one game on this trip since they were unaccustomed to such tactics.

During the entire season only three teams were met that really outclassed the Lenoir team: V. P. I., Lynchburg Elks, and Durham "Y." The other teams did not show any more form in either passing or shooting. The teams that defeated Lenoir on their local floors would experience a very close battle if met on the Lenoir court.

Review of Baseball Season

THE BASEBALL SEASON has just begun, but we feel safe in saying that Lenoir is putting out one of the best teams in the history of the institution. Practically all of the old men are back and several new men are doing excellent work. The material is not only the best that has been seen at Lenoir for years, but the team has the most efficient pilot in Coach Utley that a Lenoir team has ever had. Coach Utley is a former star of Wake Forest, where he has made his letter in the three major sports.

The practice season opened March 1st and the boys have been faithfully at work every fair day since. So far only three real games have been played. March 22d saw the official opening of Lenoir's baseball season. The Garnet and Black met and defeated the Mars Hill team on this date by a score of 7 to 2.

March 23d saw the Lenoir boys at Morganton with the Moline, Illinois, club as opponents. No one expected them to win from Moline and consequently Coach Utley sent in two second string men as pitchers, Smyre pitching the first five and a half innings and Brown the remainder of the game. What surprised everyone most was the excellent showing made by our boys. In spite of using second string pitchers they held the Moline to a 10 to 16 score.

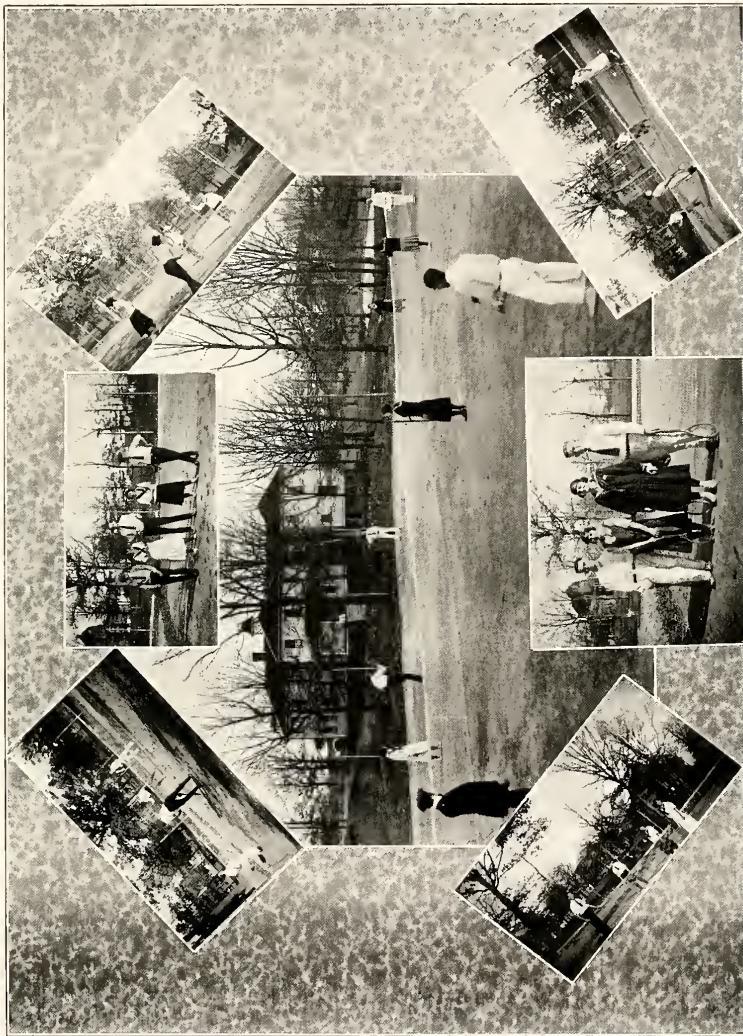

The team met Rutherford on Lenoir's field March 25th. The game ended in a 5 to 4 victory for Lenoir. The chief features of the game were the pitching of Benfield and the slugging of Rudisill.

The schedule for the season is the heaviest ever undertaken by Lenoir. Below is a complete schedule showing games yet to be played. We feel confident that the team will continue its good record.

SCHEDULE

March 22—Mars Hill.	April 11—M. P. C. I.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Waeanwa '22

Review of Season

HEN we gathered here last fall, we realized that many of our girls of last year were not with us. Especially did we miss three of our members of the Varsity basketball team. Under a new coach and with some raw material to work in it was necessary to do some real practicing. Much interest was taken and the old as well as the new girls responded willingly and did faithful work. Soon we had an efficient team.

We were delighted when the Garnet and Black suits were given to the Varsity team.

Captain Rudisill and Manager Patterson tried hard to arrange trips to Virginia, South Carolina and colleges in this State. It seemed the girls from other colleges were not playing. Hickory and Startown High Schools were played in order to give our girls experience against opposing teams. The scores of these games were in our favor. A game was arranged with Charlotte Y. W. C. A. and we went there to play them February 10. The score was 22 to 12 in their favor. March 11, Charlotte Y. W. C. A. came here to play. Our girls had more experience now and led them a merry chase. Not until the last few minutes did the opposing girls take the lead, which we were not able to overcome for lack of time. The final score was 15 to 12 in their favor.

The girls have shown a peppy spirit throughout the season. We are very fortunate in having three girls from last year's Varsity to form a nucleus for this year's team.

"Kat" is an excellent forward. She has the real team spirit. This is Zelda's fourth year on the Varsity. It is hard for a forward to "make" a goal when Zelda is on guard. Elsie is right there to get the ball. Although low in stature she makes up for it in swiftness and high jumping. The other girls are new, though none the less competent. Mabel plays a cool-headed game and stays with her forward. Wilkie soon learned to work with Kat in caging the ball. Myrtle makes a good jumping center, being quick and always making sure passes to her forward.

The "Subs" need praise too. They have made the Varsity strong by their hard work in giving them practice.

The characteristics of the players could be summed up by the yells from the sideline. "Sling it across, Zel;" "That's sticking to her, Mabel;" "Get the tip-off, Cooper;" "Some jumping, Elsie;" "Shoot, Pat;" "Rah! Rudisill."

Now since the basketball season is over, attention is being turned toward tennis. Elsie Rhodes is manager. Several tournaments are being arranged. We hope to be successful in tennis.

Prof: "Correct. Now tell me, what is the unit of electric power?"

"Molly": "The what, sir? (watt)."

Prof: "That will do; very good."

—o—

This annual is a great invention.

The school gets all the fame;

The printers get all the money,

The staff gets all the blame.

"Ed": "I got two orders when I went out for adds this afternoon."

"Slim": "What were they?"

"Ed": "Get out and stay out."

—o—

Blessings on thy dear sweet head,
Oakview girl, with cheeks of red;
With thy nicely painted cheek.
Powdered eighty times a week.

—o—

"Do right and fear no man.
Don't write and fear no woman."

"Abby" (telling Bryte good bye): "Well,
I must be off."

Bryte: "I thought so ever since I met you."

—o—

"There are two kinds of people: those who kiss and tell and those who don't kiss."

—o—

Annie Laurie: "Of what use is man, any way?"

Charlie Kyles: "Well, I never saw a respectable family without one."

Being good is an awful lonesome job.

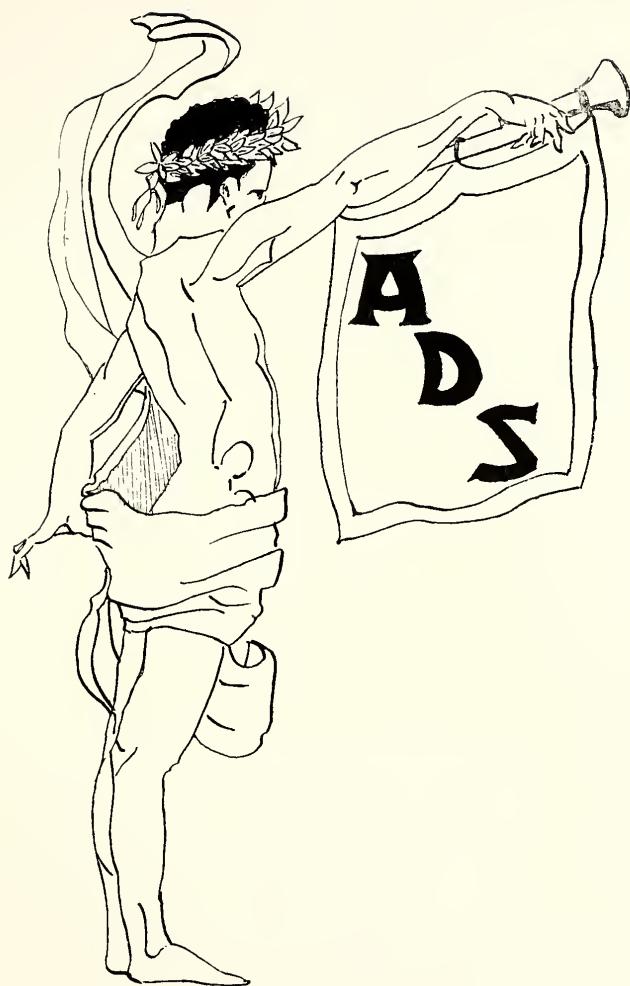

—o—

Tickle: "Do you think I will ever be able to do anything with my voice?"

Miss Lund: "Well, it might come in handy in case of fire."

—o—

Whatever trouble Adam had, no man in days
of yore,
Could say when he told a joke, "I've heard that one before."

WEALTH THAT WORKS

WEALTH that works is capital. Unlike brain and muscle, it does not wear out or deteriorate, it grows and grows. The only gain from labor is what is saved--- Labor therefore makes wealth and when wealth works it is capital. Labor is the producer and wealth is the keeper and grower.

Designing & Printing College Annuals

A careful inspection of the Art Work, Typography, Presswork, and Binding in this annual, and all other annuals produced by us will, we believe, convince the most skeptical of our claim to be especially equipped to execute high class printing.

Our organization is made up of men who take pride in their work---our equipment is second to none in the state---and these two, combined with rare business service, insures our patrons of entire satisfaction.

Consult us about your printing needs, large or small. We give the small work our careful attention just the same as the large.
